Degrees

Undergraduate studies: Kandidaatsexamen Biologie Universiteit Leiden 1971
Graduate studies: Doctoraalexamen Biologie Universiteit Leiden 1975
PhD: Universiteit Leiden 1981

Other training or certificates (including teaching certificate):

Career

Mention in chronological order all your past and present functions (also indicate periods of unemployment):

1971-1975 Assistant at Laboratorium voor experimentele Plantensystematiek (prof. Hegnauer).
 1975-1981 PhD student at Rijksherbarium, Leiden
 1981-1987 Postdoc at Rijksherbarium, Leiden, on three successive NWO Grants for the Flora agaricina neerlandica project
 1987-1991 Head Mycology Department of Plant Protection Service, Wageningen.
 1991-present Senior Researcher/Associate Professor at National Herbarium Nederland, Leiden

Mention in chronological order all your previous and present activities as chairman, vice chairman, secretary or institutional representative in academic boards:

Treasurer International Mycological Association 1994-2000
 Chairman Synthesys Panel 2005-present

Educational activities

Mention actual contact hours of all courses, practicals, and excursions in which you are involved per academic year:

First years practical diversity of plants
 Second and third years course biodiversity (sect. Mycology).
 1991-2001 Caputcollege Mycology

Supervisor or co-supervisor of the following bachelors or masters projects:

- 1994: R. Sullock-Enzlin: Taxonomic Studies in the Lactarius vellereus complex.
- 1996: S. Idzerda: Unravelling the Lactarius tabidus-complex in Western Europe
- 2000: H.C. den Bakker: Revision of Leccinum in the Netherlands
- 2004: L. Sparrius: A Monograph of Enterographa and Sclerophyton
- 2004: S. v.d. Linde: Taxonomy and Ecology of Boletus sect. Boletus in Europe
- 2005: D. Beugelsdijk: Molecular studies in Boletus sect. Edulis
- 2006/7: Dorien Langeveld (Msc). Do spores give phylogenetic information within the Entolomataceae
- 2006/7: Luis Morgado Neves (University of Avero, Portugal), Postgraduate student: Critical morphological and molecular studies on selected species from then basal Entoloma clades.

Mention in chronological order your visiting lectureships abroad:

- Leader and lecturer during various mycological courses for taxonomists and ecologists:
- 1992, 1993, 1999 Borgsjo, Sweden (Swedish Mycological Society)
- 1986 Oslo, Norway (University Oslo)
- 1986, 1999 England (British Mycological Society)
- 2003 Como, Italy (Scientific Committee of Union of Italian Mycological Societies)
- 2005 Nordland, Norway (University Oslo)

Main research interests

Short description of your research interests (about 100 words):

Specialist in taxonomy of fungi, in particular of Agaricales and Boletales (Basidiomycetes), and to some extent also of Phoma (Deuteromycetes). Currently involved in the long-term Flora agaricina neerlandica project, which envisages the publication of a critical flora in 11 volumes of all 2200 species occurring in Western Europe. Monographic studies in Entolomataceae include Europe, North. America, Australia, and Malaysia, in co-operation with local mycologists. Together with Dr. G. Gates, School of Plant Science, Hobart, Australia I work on a monograph of Entolomataceae in Tasmania, to be published in 2010/2011. Recently plans are made for a biodiversity assessment of Agarics in the Arctic in correlation with climate change. Other projects involve a European monographs of Marasmioid and Collybioid fungi, Hemimycena and related genera, and Melanoleuca in co-operation with Dr. Vladimir Antonín, Botanical Museum, Brno, Czech Republic, and an European monograph of Lactarius, together with Prof. Dr. Annemieke Verbeken, University of Gent, Belgium. Graduate teaching is done in form of courses in mycology for student of the Leiden University, and PhD Projects on the phylogeny and speciation in Leccinum (Boletales) and Entolomataceae (Agaricales).

Key-words:

Fungi, Basidiomycetes, Agaricales sensu lato, Taxonomy, Phylogeny, Biodiversity, Biogeography.

Supervisor / Co-Supervisor / Head of Research unit:

Prof. Dr. E. Smets

Main national and international partners of your research (Name, affiliation and address):

- Dr. Jozsef Geml, National Herbarium of the Netherlands
- Dr. E.J.M. Arnolds, Beilen, The Netherlands
- Prof. Dr. Th.W. Kuyper, University of Wageningen
- Prof. Dr. A. Verbeken, University of Gent, Belgium
- Dr. V. Antonín, Botanical Museum, Brno, Czech Republic
- Prof. Dr. I. Krisai-Greilhuber and A. Hausknecht, Botanical Museum, University of Vienna, Austria.
- Dr G. Gates, School of Plant Sciences, Hobart University, Tasmania, Australia
- Dr. Olga Morozova, Komarov Botanical Institute, Academy of Sciences, St. Petersburg, Russia.

Scientific honours, prizes or awards

Awards: Clusius Prize of the Hungarian Mycological Society, 2009.

Epinomy:

Entoloma noordeloosii A. Hausknecht, Österreichische Zeitschrift f. Pilzkunde 8: 149. 1999

Entoloma machieli A. De Meyer, Notable Macrofungi from Brazil's Parana Pine Forests: 268. 2008

Projects, Positions, Grants

Mention in chronological order all the projects, grants, and positions (e.g. PhD-positions, bursaries, postdocs, fellowships, technical or administrative positions) that you obtained. In each case state the subject, the starting and finishing date of the project, grant and position, the funding institution, the amount of funding made available and the capacity in which you collaborated (researcher, promoter, supervisor, etc.):

1981-1987: Various NWO Grants for the Flora agaricina neerlandica project.

Supervisor or advisor of the following PhD- theses:

S. Verduin: Biological species concept and phylogeny in Psilocybe sect. Psilocybe.

E.C. Vellinga: Taxonomy and Phylogeny of Lepiotaceous Fungi

H.C. den Bakker: Diversity in Leccinum: A Molecular Approach

D.L.V. Co-David: Phylogeny of Entolomataceae

M. Aveskamp: Phylogeny of Phoma (Coelomycetes)

H. de Gruyter: Phylogeny of Phoma (Coelomycetes)

Publications

- Publications which are exclusively available in electronic format are classified as below, preceded by the annotation “e”. If a printed version exists, only the printed version should be mentioned in the list.
- For SCI-journals, mention the Impact Factor of the year that your article was published.
- If relevant, mention the number of citations with each publication.
- For books always mention ISBN number.
- Cite your publications in each category in chronological order (Paragraphs are formatted as “hanging, keep line together, space after 4”).

Participation at Field work

Mention in chronological order your participation at Expeditions (title of Field work program, place and date).

Mycological trips and expeditions have been undertaken almost yearly since 1975 to destinations within The Netherlands, Europe, North America, Africa, Australia and New Zealand.

Herbarium visits

Mention in chronological order your Herbarium visits (work program, place and date).

All major herbaria of Europe have been visited, and in addition also the herbaria in New York, Ottawa, Harare, and Melbourne

Collection responsibilities

Mention your activities in relation to the Herbarium collections.

Advice is given and sometimes material is located in the collections for loans. Returned loans are routinely checked for nomenclatural and/or taxonomic changes. Advice is given on nomenclature matters. Under my guidance several honorary staff members set up material for insertion in the collections.

Other relevant information

- Mention your memberships of international scientific boards (e.g. congress organization, scientific committees) and editorial boards:

In my function as treasurer and member of the board of the International Mycological Association from 1994-2000 I was involved in the organisation of the International Congresses in Vancouver (1994), and Jerusalem (1998); the first regional African Mycological Congress in Harare, 1996).

As member of the scientific board I was engaged in the organisation of the European Mycological Congress in Wageningen, 1995.

In addition several international workshops of taxonomy of Agarics in various European countries have been organized in the past 3 decades.

- Mention your activities as editor and/or secretary of books, series and journals:
Persoonia, an International Mycological Journal. Editor in Chief since 1991.

Flora agaricina neerlandica; member of editorial board since 1981; editor in chief since 1995.

Coolia, Journal of the Dutch Mycological Society. Editor since 1976.

- Mention your activities related to the local, national and international press:

Occasionally information is transmitted to, or interview are given to the national press and radio, mainly in connection with drug abuse in relation to magic mushrooms. This again was actual late 2008, when a new legislation was introduced to prevent the sale of fresh Psilocybe.

- Any other scientific activities that you want to mention?

In 2008 I participated in an assessment of candidates for the vacant post of professor in mycology at the University of Oslo (Norway).
